

DAWID TOMASZEWSKI

BOTANICAL BLACK Spring/Summer 2016

Dawid Tomaszewski's Spring/Summer Collection 2016 BOTANICAL BLACK is a symbiotic orchestra of contrasts – industrially inspired deconstructivism and soft silhouettes inspired by nature form an explosion of colour.

Geometric structures in the tradition of expressionist artists like Joris Kuiper oscillate with delicate magnolia blossoms and python patterns, sleek lines with opulent embroidery; tender nude nuances clash with gaudy orange, cold petrol with warm berries, airy organza with smooth cashmere.

Following the tradition of classic couture, the collection reflects a wide range of crafting techniques: the magnolias are flower studies drawn by a Berlin-based artist, the knit is handwoven in Europe, the metal embroidery is done in Indian workshops.

The collection is a continuous derivative of Tomaszewski's artistic and qualitative aspirations and an ode to an eccentric, female beauty who is 'mise en scène' in all her facets through the interaction of antipodes.
